THE LEDGER DID IT!

Specimen of the "Cranks" That Blow Into the Newspaper Sanctum.

Yesterday just as the Football Editor had thrown his twenty-eighth election return inquirer over the front transom, the door opened with a swish and in blew an electric young man, fairly ablaze with happiness.

He thrust his head through the window opening of the sanctum, pulled his whole physical and mental self together, and this is what he said, and said so rapidly that old Benn Pittman couldn't have caught more than one word out of five—

"I've been seeking your paper for sanctification, and now I've come to tell you to telegraph the ——— Company at Manchester at their expense that I am ready to come home. Soon as I got read I was to notify you to telegraph, I sought your paper and am now sanctified."

And before the Editor could get his breath the vision shot out into the atmosphere and vanished.

The young man gave the name of the Company, but for obvious reasons it is omitted here. He was neatly dressed, but the wheels in his head were outrunning a Spanish fleet.

The handsome Georgia marble step for the main entrance of the Opera-house arrived yesterday and is now in place. It was the generous gift of Mrs. Kate Wallingford.

Among his surviving brothers and sisters are Mrs. Dan Perrine and Misses Mary and Emma Nolin of this city.

Captain Nolin was a member of the Masonic Fraternity, under whose auspices the funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the residence, 336 East Second street, with religious services by the Rev. Howard T. Cree of the Christian Church. Interment to the Maysville Cemetery.

SHOT A WILD CAT.

Experience of Mr. Frank Clark While Driving in Lewis County.

A correspondent writing from Petersville gives the experience of a young man of this city while going from Vanceburg to his home in Lewis county a few days since.

Last Monday evening as Mr. Frank Clark, in company with Maces Core and Rosa Higdon, was driving from Vanceburg to Petersville, his attention was attracted by the terrible cries of a wildcat.

When he first heard it it was about 400 hundred yards from them in Indian Bottom but it came nearer and nearer until it was only about 30 yards behind the buggy.

Mr. Clark picked up his pistol and fired two shots, when the cries of the wild beast were silenced.

If it had not been for the timely aid of the young man one or more of the party might have been severely injured.

Mr. Clark is a Lewis county boy but is now in this city where he is Storekeeper and Gauger for Uncle Sam.

An Important Difference.

STAND FROM UNDER!

There'll Be a Rain of Meteors Between Saturday Night and Tuesday.

Astronomers have calculated that the earth will pass through a great ring of meteors between the night of the 12th of November and sunrise of the 13th.

This occurs about every 33 years.

In 1863, according to Prof. Young's estimate, some 250,000 meteors dashed into the earth's atmosphere in a shower lasting five or six hours.

The meteors move so quickly—about 45 miles a second—that the heat of friction causes them to evaporate before they strike the earth.

The shower of 1866 was visible between 9 p. m. of November 13th and 8 a. m. of the following morning.

Next year the earth will sweep through the heart of the shoal of Lenned, but the meteoric phenomena which may be seen in a few nights is not of common occurrence, and none should neglect to watch for it.

The celestial pyrotechnics of next week are but preliminary to the great exhibit of November, 1899.
